FUND

MONTHLY REPORT

March 2020 Factsheet

Market Update

March 2020 will be remembered as one of the most volatile months in share market history. Equity markets saw some of the largest and fastest falls (Dow Jones -12% in one single day) and rallies (again Dow Jones with an increase of more than 20% in 3 days). At the end of the month the Dow Jones had closed 13.74% lower, down 23.2% for the March quarter, its worst quarter ever.

The Covid-19 virus has dominated the markets around the world in the past month and continues to do so. Coordinated action by governments and central banks around the globe in an attempt to limit the impact of the virus saw announcements of further interest rate cuts, almost unlimited government and corporate bond buying and unprecedented stimulus packages.

The record bull market in U.S. stocks effectively turned a bear market on March 12, 11 years after the last one ended.

Notable main moves and records in the markets:

- The Bloomberg dollar index surged 5%.
- The CBOE Volatility Index averaged 57% in March, triple the mean of the prior decade.
- European shares plunged more than 20% for the worst three months since 2002. Spain's stock market lost 30%.
- Tokyo's Topix lost almost 20% but China's Shanghai Composite only lost about 10%.
- West Texas Intermediate Oil lost 67%, the worst quarter on record.
- The U.S. 10 Year Treasury yield hit 1.94%, then fell to 0.31% in early March.
- Gold topped US$1,700 in early March and has now rallied six quarters in a row.
- Some metals had large losses such as Copper, down 23% and nickel down 19%.
- In currencies the British Pound fell more than 6%, while the Yen was flat against the USD.

By the end of the month and whilst volatility remained, markets benefitted from the coordinated and massive government spending and support and started a furious week-long rally in the last week of March, taking some of them between 15% to 20% from their March lows.

Investment Manager Outlook Statement

Stuart McAuliffe, Portfolio Manager.

As markets look to be at a breaking point the fund continues to be underweight risk relative to our benchmarks. We expect the sharp and erratic moves to continue into April and May and await opportunities with better risk/reward to present themselves.

March 2020 Factsheet

Fund Objective

The Investment Manager will seek to provide investors with capital growth over the medium to long-term. The Fund will invest in a range of financial products that focus on global macroeconomics and, in holding both long and short positions, will seek absolute returns regardless of market direction. The Investment Manager's advantage lies in correct assessment of broad valuation measures, macroeconomic environment, sentiment and economic forecasting. The strategy aims to identify medium and long-term trends and trend shifts, but to also vary position size given short-term technical indicators including sentiment and momentum.

Fund Strategy

The Fund will invest in a range of financial products that focus on global macroeconomics.

The goal is to provide investors with exposure to global markets, where returns are not necessarily correlated to traditional ASX equity markets (which is where many listed investment companies focus their investment activities).

In holding both long and short positions, the Fund will seek absolute returns – that is, returns regardless of market direction.

The Fund has a focus on an actively managed portfolio of exchange traded futures and options, trading where the Investment Manager believes that significant valuation discrepancies exist between current trading prices and the underlying intrinsic value of the asset class.

The Fund may also invest directly in equities listed in Australia and offshore on leading exchanges, and can hold relatively large cash exposures. Derivatives may be used to leverage the Fund.

The Fund seeks to maintain a diversity of investments in deeply liquid markets, with the goal of reducing risk and volatility (or the variability of returns).

Investment Manager

John Bridgeman Limited (Investment Manager) has been appointed by the Responsible Entity for JB High Alpha Retail Fund to manage the Portfolio in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Investment Management Agreement and the PDS.
